Respect

In a country as diverse in culture as South Africa is, we live far more happily when we respect our differences. The best way to learn respect for other cultures is to learn more about them and be accepting of the differences. But, respect is not only a cultural issue. Respect is something we learn at home and take with us into every area of our lives.

There's a very good saying: 'Treat others as you would like to be treated.'

- Have a class group discussion about how to show respect for others.
- List the most important points on the chalkboard.
- Give an example of each point.

For example:

Respect older people – Give up your seat on the bus for an elderly lady.

Your teacher will assess your participation in the discussion using the checklist below.
